DDS Wireless' StrataGen signs contract with New York City Transit

Richmond, BC, May 22, 2009 – DDS Wireless International Inc.'s Transit business unit, StrataGen Systems, today announced that it has received a notice to proceed with an additional phase of the ADEPT™ software implementation from New York City Transit ("NYCT"), one of the world's largest transit authorities. With a value of over $600,000, the project will further increase the efficiency and usability of the software.

"This signals a further strengthening of the StrataGen and NYCT relationship, and underscores our ability to scale into the world's largest transit operations" stated StrataGen's president Matt Scheuing. "We look forward to our continued close collaboration with NYCT as they move towards their growth targets."

A key partner of StrataGen since implementing ADEPT™ in 2002, NYCT has grown from 8,000 trips per day to more than 25,000, provided by 2,450 routes and over 1,900 vehicles. StrataGen's ADEPT™ software has been key to facilitating this growth by providing leading edge scheduling, dispatching and reporting for NYCT operations. The next phase of development will focus on further optimizing the ADEPT™ solution to streamline dispatch and scheduling processes.
