DDS Wireless signs $1,000,000 contract with OAIS of India

Richmond, BC, September 30, 2009 – DDS Wireless International Inc.'s Taxi business unit, Digital Dispatch, today announces that it has signed a contract for 1,000 Vector mobile data terminals ("MDT") with ORIX Auto Infrastructure Services Limited ("OAIS") of Mumbai, India. OAIS had previously purchased 750 MDTs and this brings the total to 1,750 units. The contract also includes a five year service agreement for support and maintenance of the system. DDS Wireless is immediately going to expand its existing Indian office to provide support services and repairs. The total contract is worth approximately $1 million dollars.

OAIS is a joint venture between ORIX Corporation, Japan and Infrastructure Leasing and Financial Services Ltd., India. OAIS provides a comprehensive suite of products and services in automobile financing and value added services such as car rental, radio taxi services, business transport solution, and construction equipment financing in the Transport Infrastructure Segment. The multi-product business approach of OAIS has helped it in achieving leadership position in Transport Infrastructure Segment.

"This partnership will usher in a new paradigm of using technology for efficient management of Road Transport Services in India", said Neeraj Kumar, CEO of OAIS.

"We are very pleased to extend our relationship with OAIS and we will open a repair center to service our expanding install base in India. OAIS and previously announced sale to Taxi Dusseldorf are extending our horizons and making us a true global company. This year we expect over 50% of our annual revenue to come from outside of North America", stated Vari Ghai, CEO of DDS Wireless.
