DDS Wireless 2010 Year-end Earnings Release and Conference Call Notice. Appoints Markus Pauli as President of Digital Wireless Business Unit

Richmond, BC, February 22, 2011 – DDS Wireless International Inc. (“DDS” or “the Company”) announced today the appointment of Markus Pauli to the position of President of the Company’s Digital Wireless business unit. Markus is joining DDS with a broad background of experience with international technology companies. Markus previously served on the Executive Team of Coe Newnes McGehee, a world leader in Lumber Processing and Optimization Systems as head of Worldwide Operations and International Business Development and as Chief Operating Officer of Romaco, a Swiss based manufacturer of pharmaceutical processing and control systems with operations around the world. Previously Markus spent 10 years with Alcatel, where he was instrumental in setting up the German and North American Conductors Divisions as well as Alcatel Optronics in Dallas, Texas. Markus holds an advanced engineering degree and an undergraduate degree in political sciences from the University of Technology Aachen, Germany (RWTH). He has also completed the Alcatel International Masters Program, in cooperation with Ecole de Management Lyon, France.

“We are very pleased to welcome Markus to our senior management team”, said Vari Ghai, CEO of DDS. “Markus brings a wealth of senior leadership experience in the areas of technology sales and marketing, business development and international operations which are key to our objective of building new channels and markets for our technologies through our Digital Wireless business unit”

“I am excited about DDS and the opportunity to join such a dedicated team. I look forward to leveraging our technology leadership, innovation and customer service dedication to drive growth both in existing and new markets!” said Markus Pauli, President of Digital Wireless.
